

SUPPLEMENTAL NUTRITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM INCOME REPORTING INFORMATION

There are limits on the amount of money you can earn each month to be eligible for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, or SNAP, the new name for the food stamp program, benefits. For Oct.1, 2013 to Sept. 30, 2014, they are:

SNAP INCOME LIMITS (130 PERCENT OF THE FEDERAL POVERTY INCOME GUIDELINES)

Number of people in your household	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Gross monthly income	$1,245	$1,681	$2,116	$2,552	$2,987	$3,423	$3,858	$4,294*

* If there are more than eight people in your household, add $436 for each person to $4,294.

If your total household income goes above the amounts listed for a month, you need to report it to your county caseworker. Once you report that your income exceeds the limit and your benefits have been adjusted, you will not need to report any additional increases in income until your semi-annual review (SAR) or your renewal, which ever occurs first. This reporting requirement is for SNAP benefits only. If you receive other benefits, such as cash or medical assistance, you may have other reporting requirements.

How to determine your gross monthly income:

You can figure out your total household income for the month by adding up all the paychecks you received, using the gross amount (the amount before any taxes or deductions are taken out). You also need to include in the total any unearned income, such as Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, unemployment compensation, court ordered support, voluntary support, or other benefits received for the month. Compare the total to the monthly amounts listed in the table above.

- If the total is more than the amount listed above for the number of people in your household, call your county caseworker within 10 days.
- If the total is less than the amount listed, you do NOT need to contact your caseworker.

Remember:

This reporting requirement is for SNAP benefits only.

- Add up ALL the household income for each month.
- Use the household size that you last reported to your county assistance office.
